

2019 Packaging Jamboree

Hosted by the Packaging Systems and Design Club
at Virginia Tech

April 2nd-4th

2019 Packaging Jamboree

What:

Packaging Jamboree is an annual conference that rotates between universities around the U.S. that have packaging programs. It is a three-day, student-led event filled with educational, networking, and professional development opportunities for students and industry professionals. The theme for this year is “iPackage”-Global trends of emerging packaging technology. As the world shifts to the realization of an autonomous economy, companies are noticing this trend and implementing them in their own style.

When:

Tuesday, April 2nd-Thursday, April 4th

Who:

Virginia Tech Packaging Students and Faculty, Visiting Program's Students and Faculty, and Industry Professionals
